

Hospitality and Tourism Management (2214) (A.S.)

ASSOCIATE IN SCIENCE RECOMMENDED ROADMAP

This academic roadmap is designed to help you select courses each term for your Associate in Science Degree in Hospitality and Tourism Management (2214) (A.S.). The mission of the Hospitality and Tourism Management program is to educate, train, and develop students for career-oriented positions as cooks and managers in the dynamic foodservice and hospitality industries. The College successfully recruits, retains, and graduates students who progress through curricular cohorts. Program requirements are rooted in competencies developed by the American Culinary Federation Education Foundation (ACFEF) and the Accrediting Commission for Programs in Hospitality Administration (ACPHA). The program applies a practical, hands-on approach to understanding the foundations of culinary arts and hospitality management.

Full-time students will refer to the term-by-term recommendations, and part-time students will refer to the course-by-course recommendations. "Mile Markers and Notes" on the Roadmap refer to important guidelines for program completion.

This roadmap is intended to provide general guidance about recommended courses and mile markers. For specific guidance about your individual academic degree plan, please see a program advisor. Please also refer to the College Catalog for additional information.

Embedded Certificate(s)

Two technical certificates are available as options within this degree program: Food and Beverage Management (6050) (T.C.) and Guests Services Specialist (6052) (T.C.). Students may pursue the A.S. degree and earn technical certificates while completing the requirements for the degree or pursue one or more certificates to develop or upgrade their skills in a particular field. Contact an advisor to determine the career education path that is best for you.

Career Options: The culinary and hospitality fields are consistently among the fastest-growing industries, especially in Florida. Many employers in today's market are expressing a preference for education over experience. Nationally, the demand for graduates from programs like the Associate in Science in Hospitality and Tourism Management already surpasses the number of viable candidates.
