

Greetings FSCJ family,

We know this year has been filled with challenges, but with those come new opportunities and new possibilities that can change and better the direction of your future. Maybe you put off your education this year because you didn't know what to expect or how to plan for the months ahead. We understand and are here to help you start fresh and start ahead in 2021.

With an ever-growing and changing job market, this is the perfect time to focus on upskilling to gain a competitive advantage in your current career or learning new skills to prepare for the future job market. Whether you want to start with one class at a time or are ready to jump in full time, we will help you take back your future in 2021.

Spring registration is open now and we have a variety of class formats and options to fit your specific needs. With online, live online, hybrid and in-person classes, we have options to meet you where you are so you feel comfortable and safe. If you need assistance registering for courses, please make an online appointment with one of our advisors at fscj.edu/advising.

Start ahead in 2021 and register for your classes now. Classes begin January 11!
