| American Criminal Justice Association-Theta Sigma Chi Chapter | Participation in the FSCJ American Criminal Justice Association (ACJA) chapter helps students develop a deeper understanding of the criminal justice system through exposure to real-world career paths, guest speakers, and field experiences. Students gain valuable professional development by networking with practitioners in law enforcement, corrections, courts, forensic science, and related fields. Active involvement in the chapter builds leadership, teamwork skills, ethical decision-making abilities, critical thinking, communication, problem-solving, and report writing. Students who engage with the FSCJ ACJA chapter are better prepared academically and professionally, gaining experiences that bridge the gap between theory and practice in the criminal justice field. | Dr. Ken Davis/ Andreas Glover       | kdavis@fscj.edu ;anglover@fscj.edu                           | South Campus                   | Public Service                             |
